

Lee Eastman

Being a military/civil service dependent, I have lived from North to South and East to West. I moved to Auburn in 1988 from West Alabama. Having grown up in Mobile, AL, I missed being near the water and, in 1994, moved to Still Waters to live in a wonderful, safe, peaceful neighborhood on beautiful Lake Martin. I love the Still Waters Community and, in 2012, moved from Villas on the Harbor to my current residence. I have two children and a beautiful granddaughter who all live locally.

I attended College at the University of West Alabama. I served in the Air Force for ten years as a computer specialist, after which I became a co-owner of a building supply/concrete/construction business. I moved to Auburn, AL, in 1988 as the Executive Director of the Auburn Housing Authority and later became the CEO of Auburn/LaFayette/Roanoke Housing Authorities. In 2015, I retired after 34 years' service.

During these years, I served as the President of the Alabama Association of Public Housing Authority Directors Association and President of the Alabama Association of Housing and Redevelopment Authorities. I also served on the Boards of both for many years and other Boards. In addition, I served as a Board member of the Housing Authority Insurance Group (HAI). HAI is a National Member-owned captive insurance company providing affordable nationwide insurance for Public Housing and related agencies. I chaired the Learning Technologies and Information Technology Committees. During this time, I was an active member of The National Association of Corporate Directors (NACD) and held a corporate board certification. I currently serve on the Stillwater's Board and the Architectural Review Committee. I'm an active Church of the Living Waters member and attend the Church of Highlands.
